Senator Sherman's speech attacking the people of Washington as "proletarians" and "jobholders" was rebuked bitterly at a meeting of the executive committee of the Washington Board of Trade last night. His remarks were declared to be "unjust and unfriendly." The committee expressed regret that the senator should have made such a speech, labeling it as being "calculated to convey totally misleading impressions."

Walter A. Brown, president of the board, was directed to send a communication expressing the sentiment of the board to Senator Sherman. The executive committee passed the recommendation for the election of twenty-two new members. The question of allowing a delegate from each of the thirty-five citizens' associations in the district to attend the meetings of the board of trade was voted, after a brief discussion.

After warm debate of the proposition of combining the celebrations for the return of President Wilson and for the District troops, it was decided to submit a proposal to the commissioners to follow the original plan of holding the welcoming celebration for the president on his return to the city and to postpone the celebration for the soldiers until May, or until such time as the ma-

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulitised coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulitised coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.
